

DOES GOD REALLY EXIST??????

Do you believe in God? Ask this question to yourself again after reading this. I bet you do. In this era of science, we all need a scientific proof to believe on a statement. Let us make an attempt to prove the existence of God.

From Einstein's theory of relativity, we get these three equations:-

- 1: $m = m_0 / (1 - v^2/c^2)^{1/2}$ i.e., $> m_0 \Rightarrow$ mass increase
- 2: $l = l_0 (1 - v^2/c^2)^{1/2}$ i.e., $< l_0 \Rightarrow$ length contracts
- 3: $t = t_0 / (1 - v^2/c^2)^{1/2}$ i.e., $> t_0 \Rightarrow$ time dilation

Here m_0 , l_0 and t_0 are respectively the mass, length and time of the object in rest.

From the above three equations, we can conclude that anything or anybody travelling with a speed of light can have:

- I. Infinite mass
- II. Length contracts from all direction, i.e., volume contracts and tends to zero. So its volume becomes negligible.
- III. Infinite time dilation, i.e., it undergoes no change in time, since when it starts travelling. That means it has no aging effect.

Now we can accept the existence of a person travelling with a speed very close to the speed of light, whose characteristics are given below:-

- a. Infinite mass
- b. Negligible volume
- c. No aging effect
- d. As his body extends to the entire universe, he is present everywhere.
- e. As volume tends to zero, he is present at the finest level, i.e., atomic level or electronic level of all particles. We can get most powerful energy(Nuclear Energy) from this finest level. So he is the most powerful.

- f. He can reach any corner of the world within no time, as he is moving close to the speed of light.

According to mythological belief, God has the following characteristics:-

- a. His body covers all the universe as explained in Gita, when God showed his Vishwaroopa to Arjuna in the incarnation of his Krishnavatar.
- b. He is believed to be present in all the materials in the universe, albeit we cannot see him.
- c. God is present before the inception of the universe and will be present after the destruction. God has no aging effect.
- d. God is omnipresent.
- e. God is the source of all energy and he is the mightiest in the universe.
- f. Whenever, wherever, in any situation if a devotee prays true heartedly, he reaches to his devotee within no time.

Now we can observe from the above statements that the characteristics of the person we believe to exist scientifically matches with the characteristics of God. Thus the existence of God is proved. We can conclude that God exist and is always moving with the speed of light.

Did you get your answer? Whether you get it or not, I am sure that your heart started to believe in God.
